VOL. 55—NO. 42 JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 18, 1921 TWELVE PAGES—THREE CENTS

TEXANS NEARLY START RIOT IN HOUSE

SUMNERS IN ATTACK ON BLANTON BRINGS MEMBERS TO FEET

Catcalls and the Word Liar Passed Frequently During the Uproar --Blanton Tries to Make Himself Heard But Fails-- Noise Disturbs Dignity of Senate.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Hoots, cat calls and the word liar were shouted on the floor of the house today in the stormiest session in years. The uproar started when Representative Sumners of Texas, having left a sick bed, appeared in the house and, supported by most members of his own state delegation launched an attack on his colleague, Representative Blanton.

Rumors had been circulated about the house for days that the Texans were preparing to make the attack on their fellow member but it was held off until Mr. Sumners was physically able to direct it. When he stepped forward with a faded newspaper clipping in his hand, nearly every member was on the floor.

Read by the clerk of the house the clipping revealed that Mr. Blanton in a letter to Texas newspapers had charged members with a concerted plan to raid the treasury and obtain salary increases, which he alone had prevented heretofore. Many papers to which appeal for help was made responded with bitter assaults upon those charged with seeking the alleged salary grab.

There was a tense moment in the chamber as the reading was concluded and Mr. Sumners stepping close to where Mr. Blanton was seated shook his fist in the latter's face and dramatically shouted:

"And when you sent that statement to Texas you knew it was as false as hell."

The house broke into a wild shout, half the membership rising, Blanton, jumping to his feet and trying to make himself heard above the din, demanded the right to speak. He was howled down. Mr. Sumners, walking back and forth, continued the attack, Blanton's eyes following every step. The speech was constantly interrupted with shouting and the conclusion of almost every sentence of denunciation. Mr. Sumners declared the record showed that no effort had been made to stipulate a salary increase bill. The question had come up twice in the present congress. Mr. Sumners said and it was knocked out on points of order, once by Representative Wood, Republican, Indiana.

Mr. Blanton, he asserted was not even in the wake.

ACCUSES MEMBERS OF CONGRESS OF BREEDING UNREST

Miss Margaret Wilson Makes Statement at Convention

NOT BUSINESS TO SUPERVISE SPEECH

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Members of congress who, she said, had opposed appropriations for local community centers on the ground that they were "breeding unrest" were warmly taken to task by Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of the president in an address at today's session of the national woman's party convention. Declaring there was no evidence to support the charge, Miss Wilson asserted that even granting there was such evidence, it was "not the business of congress to supervise the activities of speech of those they represent," but the "business of the courts to try the individuals who have broken the law."

Adding there had also been expressions of opposition in congress to the use of school by community center organizations for dancing, Miss Wilson asked:

"Granting that if we have a moral right to use the school buildings, is it any of their business what we do with them, whether we listen to socialist speeches or whether we dance?"

Speaking as a representative of the National Community Center organization, Miss Wilson declared more could be accomplished toward true self-government and necessary social reforms by the organization of local groups into co-operative thinking bodies than thru the workings of party organizations.

On this ground she advised immediate disbandment of the National Woman's party which she said was not in a broad sense "non-partisan" but "exclusive," and organized for the purpose of building up a woman's machine, which would not be "more honest or effective than a man's machine."

Prior to Miss Wilson's address, the executive committee of the National Woman's party had placed before the convention a recommendation that the organization be continued the reorganized under another name and with a new program and a new executive board.

On this ground she advised immediate disbandment of the National Woman's party which she said was not in a broad sense "non-partisan" but "exclusive," and organized for the purpose of building up a woman's machine, which would not be "more honest or effective than a man's machine."

FORDNEY TARIFF MEASURE WENDS ITS WOBBLY WAY

With Load of Amendments is Snagged in Jam

TO BE COMPARABLE TO PERMANENT BILL

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill, with its burden of Senate amendments got back to the House today only to get snagged in a legislative jam leaving its immediate future uncertain.

Soon after Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means committee had started for St. Augustine, Fla., to consult President-elect Harding about putting thru a second emergency tariff as a stop-gap measure, acting Chairman Green sought to complete the House formalities of sending the first bill to conference. Obtaining recognition just before the House adjourned, Representative Green assured the House to disagree with the Senate amendments and that a conference committee be named.

Representative Treadway, Republican, Mass., failed to give the necessary unanimous consent. The Fordney bill thus was left over night with three possibilities all depending upon maneuvers by Republican leaders. It may be agreed to by a vote of the House referred again to the Ways and Means committee or an attempt be made to have the House concur in the Senate amendments.

Mr. Treadway was said by several members to have expressed to House leaders a fear that the President might sign that bill and get the whole Republican party in a hole. He also was said to have regarded statements of Senator Underwood that the President would veto the measure as "pure ball."

As for the second emergency measure which if approved by Mr. Harding, is to be rushed thru the extra session ahead of all other legislation, Republican leaders were apparently in accord. It is proposed to make it comparable to a permanent tariff bill in scope and effect and its rates according to the program, will be based on information gathered in the hearings just concluded.

WILL PERMIT CITY TO CROSS LINES

Congression Granted By Detroit United Railway—Plans Must Be Approved By Company Engineers.

Detroit, Feb. 17.—Officials of the Detroit United Railway today notified the city that the company would permit crossing of its lines by the municipal street railway if plans for the crossings were approved by company engineers.

Following recent crossing of the company lines here by the municipal railway in the face of a court injunction, circuit judges ordered the city not to use the crossing.

The construction force will be increased to 2,150 men soon it was stated. A construction speed of one mile of track a day is expected to be reached by April 1, it was said by city officials.

Approximately 80 miles of the 100 miles of municipal lines contemplated remain to be built.

NO TRACE FOUND OF MURDERER OF TWO SCHOOL TEACHERS

Two Were Clubbed to Death While on Way Home

BELIEVED TO BE WORK OF DEGENERATE

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 17.—No trace of the murderer of Miss Louise Wolfe, principal of the Parma Heights High school, and Miss Mabel Foote, 24, a teacher, was found when officers and an armed posse of more than 200 farmers gave up their search tonight. Two German police dogs failed to pick up the trail.

The two women were clubbed to death while on their way home from school late yesterday afternoon, but their bodies were not discovered until this morning, when pupils on their way to school found them badly mutilated lying near a roadway.

Murders Most Brutal.
The murders were classified by the police as the most brutal and horrible committed in Cuyahoga county within the memory of present officials.

The skulls of both women were fractured and their garments torn almost to shreds. Several saplings which the murderer had gotten from the thick woods which flank both sides of the road, were used.

One club, with the dark hair of one of the teachers, and the light hair of the other, still clinging to it, led police to believe that the crime was the work of a degenerate who wielded the club first on one and then on the other.

The trampled and bloodstained condition of the ground gave evidence of the desperate battle the women had made to save their lives. Search for the slayer will be resumed at daybreak.

BORAH DECLARES HIMSELF IN CLASH WITH M'CORMICK

Idaho Senator Says He Will Not Abandon His Judgment

NOD FROM WHITE HOUSE WILL NOT GO

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Emphatic notice was given in the Senate today by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, that he would not "abandon," his judgment to that of President Harding during the next four years.

Senator Borah's declaration came at the conclusion of a sharp clash with Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois over the question of disarmament. The latter had charged that the naval disarmament proposals of Senator Borah would "disarm" Mr. Harding in arranging for a general disarmament council.

Disclaiming any desire to embarrass Mr. Harding, Senator Borah, in replying added:

"We have heard much criticism in the last few years of waiting for a nod from the White House, Congress has been accused of abdicating not only its judgment, but its functions. Let me say here, without disrespect to the President-elect, that I shall not abdicate my judgment anymore during the next four years than I have during the past eight."

WORK OUT MONEY LOST BY PROHIBITION

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Estimates of how much money would be refunded if prohibition were closed by the form of deductions from income tax returns are being worked out by experts of the internal revenue bureau, it was announced today.

Statements by Senators Smoot of Utah, and Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, that from $1,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 would have to be returned by the Government will be answered by internal revenue Commissioner Williams officials said, as soon as the estimates are completed.

MATEWAN COUNTY JAIL AS SCENE OF FAMILY REUNIONS

Defendants in Murder Trial Receive Members of Families

SCHOOL TEACHER SAID CHAMBERS THREATENED

(By The Associated Press)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Feb. 17.—The Mingo county jail was the scene of happy reunions this afternoon when the 15 defendants in the Matewan battle trials received their friends and relatives following adjournment of court at noon until tomorrow morning.

For more than three weeks the men have sat in the court house listening to the case. All admitted when court recessed that they were glad for an afternoon off.

The principal witnesses today were women. One of them was Mrs. P. F. Smith, wife of the superintendent of the Stone Mountain Coal company, from whose houses miners were evicted by the Baldwin-Felts detectives the day of the fight. Mrs. Smith said she recalled having seen James and Clare Overstreet, Reese Chambers, N. H. Atwood and Hallie Chambers, defendants, during the fighting or shortly afterwards.

Some of them were armed, she said. Atwood accused her husband of being responsible for the fight, she testified, while Hallie Chambers was "crying and cursing the Baldwin-Felts men."

Mrs. Smith also testified that after the battle she heard Reese Chambers who was carrying a rifle say:

"I have started with this thing and intend to see it thru."

Chambers threatened her. Mrs. Oscar Hoskins, a school teacher, testified that after the firing was over she saw four men lying in the street. Everyone of the defendants showed unusual interest when Mrs. Hoskins testified that after telling her story to the grand jury Reese Chambers had said that, "if I wasn't a woman he would give me one good beating," and that "he'd get me yet."

Dr. Edward Simpkins, a dentist, recalled that he saw Reese Chambers go by with a rifle in his hand after the battle. Dr. Simpkins was wounded by the same bullet that killed Anse Hatfield last August as they sat on the porch of Hatfield's hotel, Hatfield, it was generally understood, was an important witness for the state and three of the defendants in this trial are under indictment, charged with the shooting.

SHIP DIVERTED FROM NEW YORK TO BOSTON

Order Given by Wireless—Passengers Were Not Deloused Before Embarking.

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—The American steamer Manchuria, from Danzig with 115 cabin and 1,213 steerage passengers, has been ordered diverted from New York to this port by wireless, it was learned today. She is due to arrive next Monday.

It is understood that the Manchuria's passengers were "not" deloused before embarkation and the steamer will "not" be allowed to leave quarantine until the delousing process has been completed and the vessel fumigated.

SAYS EXECUTIVES TRYING TO OBSCURE FUNDAMENTAL ISSUE

This Charge is Made By B. M. Jewell, Chairman of Employes Committee Before Railroad Labor Board—Walsh Issues Warning to Railroads—Adjourns Until Monday

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Labor today laid down a barrage of requests, proposals and oratory before the railroad labor board in a supreme effort to check the railway executives' drive against national agreements. This drive, it is declared by B. M. Jewell, chairman of the employes' committee was merely a smoke screen to obscure the fundamental issues at stake, which the employes have declared were the open shop movement and an attempt to crush organized labor.

Today's sessions of the board marked the continuation of the rules hearing which has been under way since January 10. Mr. Jewell opened with a request to allow the employes until March 14 to complete their rebuttal to the specific objections to national agreements made by the railroads. A new proposal was brought forward as an alternative against further delay in Mr. Jewell's suggestion that the case be thrown out of court and the points taken up in conference between the carriers and the employes.

MINE LEADERS UNDER ARREST ON NEW CHARGE

Warrants Issued Under Kansas Industrial Law

(By The Associated Press)
PITTSBURG, Kans., Feb. 17.—Alexander Howat, president, and August Dorchy vice-president respectively of the Kansas district of the United Mine Workers were arrested here late today on warrants issued in Cherokee county charging them with violating the Kansas industrial court law in connection with the calling of the Mackie strike. The warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace J. R. Carter, of Columbus, Kans., upon complaint of R. J. Hopkins, attorney general, and Leo Armstrong, county attorney of Cherokee county.

The arrest of Howat and Dorchy is the first under the criminal sections of the industrial court law in the Kansas mine field. Both were sentenced to jail last April for contempt of court and again yesterday for contempt. If held for trial on the criminal charge, Howat and Dorchy will see the Cherokee county district court at Columbus.

Imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one year upon conviction is provided. "I welcome the chance to a direct test," Howat said when arrested. Howat and Dorchy were taken in custody at the Union headquarters.

The complaint alleges that Howat and Dorchy, using their power and influence as union officials, influenced miners at mines to quit work, thereby suspending the operations of the mine which was producing coal for use as fuel for domestic manufacturing and transportation purposes.

PASSPORTS GRANTED

New York, Feb. 17.—Passports for Archbishop Dougherty of Philadelphia, soon to become a cardinal, and six priests of his diocese were obtained here today. The prelate will sail Saturday for Rome.

At this moment, the carriers are attempting to "dip their hands into the United States treasury and extract the enormous sum of $750,000,000 which is only their initial effort, Mr. Walsh asserted. Mr. Walsh repeated his request made before the board last week that railroad managers and directors be subpoenaed for cross-examination by which, he said, he expected to show that the operation of the national agreement had "not" been uneconomical.

The hearing adjourned until Monday with no announcement as to whether the board will act on Mr. Jewell's suggestion of conference or on his request for a recess until March 14.

Will Make Report On Marketing Methods

handle the grain.

The plan decided upon calls for ownership of terminal agencies, warehouse corporations, finance corporations, export corporations and service departments by the National Sales agency.

The service department would furnish accurate information on local, regional, national or international conditions which affected the grain trade. Transportation, legal statistical and other departments would be included. It is planned to have membership subscriptions furnish the initial capital necessary and later the running expenses would be covered by a minimum handling charge on grain.

Where local elevators and grain growers associations do not exist the sales agency would undertake the task of forming them.

Business Men Urged To Oppose Sales Tax

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Business men of the United States were urged to unite in opposition to the proposed sales tax in an address delivered tonight before the Chicago association of credit men by Dr. Thomas S. Adams, chairman of the advisory board bureau of internal revenue, and special advisor to the United States treasury department.

It is time that the business man, the consumer and all those who desire stringent economy in public expenditures, should arouse themselves to the menace involved in the propaganda now being conducted in behalf of the sales or "excise" tax," Dr. Adams said.

The consumer has a vital interest in the proposed turnover tax. Of the $1,350,000,000 esti-ated tax receipts for the next fiscal year, 6 per cent would come from income and profits taxes and 40 per cent from other miscellaneous taxes. Of these miscellaneous taxes fully three-fourths fall on the consumer.

Three main reforms are needed in the present system. The high or income tax should be reduced. The excess profit-tax should be abolished and some of the miscellaneous taxes which are working badly should be repealed. Reforms can be achieved without introducing a turnover tax. With economy in federal expenditures a turnover tax is unnecessary. Its passage would simply remove the greatest obstacle to Governmental extravagance. The more new taxes the less economy.

LOWDEN HAD NO COMMENT TO MAKE

Padadena, Calif., Feb. 17.—Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois said here today he had "no comment to make" on a despatch from St. Augustine stating he had declined to be considered for secretary of the navy in President-Elect Harding's cabinet.

REDUCE RENTALS

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 17.—Three rentals were reduced by the state rental bureau today as follows:

From $60 to $50 a month; from $24 to $18 a month; and from $25 to $22 a month.

POLICE BATTERED DOWN STEEL DOORS

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Battering down steel doors with sledge hammers the police today raided Jim O'Leary's gambling house which had been famous in Chicago for years. Altho O'Leary's "lady" was said to have operated for years, it always remained clear of raids and legal entanglements.

Thirty persons were arrested and several thousands of dollars worth of gambling paraphernalia was confiscated, according to the police.

The raid was the second big one in two days. The General News Bureau, an alleged hand-book agency for horse races, having been raided yesterday.

The police said they had procured evidence in the two raids showing that the operations of the two places were nationwide.

Statistics show that a dollar today will buy 10 per cent more than was true a year ago, but it is also true that many people are finding it a good deal more difficult to get the dollar today than they did at the other end of the twelve months.

It's a fact, but it is very much easier to interest some farmers in drawing the roads now than it was last fall. The reason can be found in the severe lesson in road conditions that January and part of February furnished. Most every resident of the county is deeply interested in good roads following a period when they had been almost impassable.

Down at Washington one of the Senators estimates that the Government will be required to return three or four billion dollars to liquor corporations, because of the "obsolescence" of their properties, brought about by prohibition. When we think of this big sum we cannot help but wonder who has been getting the still more enormous funds resulting from the demand for liquor at eight or ten times the normal price. Perhaps it can be figured out in some way that this huge profit can also be applied toward the "obsolescence."

Now a bill has been introduced in the Illinois legislature providing pensions of $400 a year for each native of the state who lives beyond the age of 65. This sounds like the genuine article of Government paternalism. When it becomes a law, teachers no longer need worry about their term of service. If they can manage to live long enough they will be eligible to the pension anyhow.

The financial editor of the Chicago Tribune has suggested that while thousands of men are out of employment, that they organize in groups and build each other houses. The idea advanced is that a few carpenters, masons, plasterers, a plumber and an electrician might work out a plan for exchanging labor and build each other's houses. This sounds like a very feasible thing, since the men are not employed and will lose nothing. Labor cost is now considerably more than 50 per cent of the total building expense. This plan merely amounts to carrying forward the co-operation idea just a little further than has been done before.

Now that Former Governor Lowden has stated definitely that he will not be a member of the Harding cabinet, perhaps other men mentioned as "possibilities" will be equally frank. One thing is certain, the list of possible appointments has been so frequently rehearsed and revised in the newspapers that when the real list is announced it will have lost much of its original interest.

As proof that recruiting in the army has really stopped, an order has been received at the local office to remove all the advertising posters which have sought to spread abroad the attractiveness of army life. If service be judged by the average army poster, the period of enlistment must be one round of pleasure and parade.

Dr. Josephine Milligan was recently chosen a representative of this the twentieth congressional district in the board of directors of the Illinois Tuberculosis association. Those who are familiar with the extensive and valuable work of the association will understand that Dr. Milligan's appointment has come in recognition of her long time activity in anti-tuberculosis work. This city has been in the advance guard in work to combat the great white plague and Dr. Milligan is recognized throughout the state as an authority on matters relating to this disease.

John Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner, has issued an appeal to American women to help enforce prohibition. He thought in his "appeal" runs along the same lines recently voiced in the editorial in the Saturday Evening Post. It is the opinion of the Post editorial that the women of the country can be the most potent force for law enforcement. He said further that women are largely responsible for the creation of the sentiment that made prohibition possible and that the task of enforcement thru sentiment is still theirs.

Mr. Kramer rightly says that in almost all instances women are the moral leaders of a community and their influence when exerted is tremendous.

The passing of George P. Davis brings forcibly into mind how a name for generosity lives on. Mr. Davis has been away from Jacksonville for two years, yet the thought of generous impulses and large-heartedness are inseparably linked with his name. Serving as the head of the police department, he naturally came in touch with many families and individuals where the pinch of poverty had been felt and in many of these instances poverty was the basic cause of wrongdoing. Coming in contact with such phases of life hardens some men and makes them almost deaf to the appeal of charity. It was not so with Mr. Davis, and it came to be known thru the years that he was always ready to listen to the story of want and poverty and then to extend his best aid. He had a friendliness of spirit too that gave new courage to many a down and out. After all, large-heartedness is one of the greater virtues in life.

HIGH WIND REPORTED IN WISCONSIN

Janeville, Wis., Feb. 17.—Winds of a velocity higher than any here for several years, accompanied by a 52 degree drop in temperature, played havoc with one house in Janeville Wednesday night brought suffering to several families and made venturing out doors a strenuous exercise.

Wise George!
George had been keeping company with Mabel for six months, but had not yet proposed to her. But George was no fool.

"I wish you would answer me a very important question," said George one evening when conversation had fallen flat.
"What is it, George?" asked Mabel.
"Tell me this," replied George. "I am very anxious to know just what date you and your mother have decided upon for our wedding?"

"Do you write a different column every day for each of the papers in your syndicate, or do they all use the same column?"
"Oh, I guess it isn't so hard to write a column like that when you get used to it, is it?"
"A friend of mine told me that you were drunk all the time, but I don't believe it. You couldn't write a column every day if you were drunk, could you?"

"Why don't you quit knocking the women and knock the men once in a while?"

CARITAS LODGE REBEKAHS MET

Held Third and Fourth of Boosters Meetings Thursday Afternoon and Evening.

Caritas Lodge No. 625 Rebekahs held the third and fourth of its booster meetings in Odd Fellows hall West State street Thursday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Margaret Weldon of Cairo, who came here to instruct the degree staff of the lodge, again put the members thru their various parts and drills. The staff rehearsal was from 2:30 to 4:30 o'clock.

A recess was then taken until 5:30 o'clock when a basket luncheon was served in the dining room. The staff then continued to rehearse until 7:30 o'clock when the regular meeting was held. Several portions were balloted upon and several resolved for membership. The lodge expects to initiate a large class in the near future.

Mrs. Weldon who is past president of the Rebekah State Assembly, gave a splendid talk upon the order. She proved to have a wonderful knowledge of ritualistic work and the members of Caritas were well pleased with her success with the staff. Great good is expected to result from her visit.

The lodge has made plans for a family supper and play to be given Friday, February 25. All members, their families and friends are invited.

SCHOOL HOUSE NEAR MURRAYVILLE BURNED

Brush College school, situated a mile and a half north of Murrayville, was totally destroyed by flames at about 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

The flames had gained such headway before discovery that the teacher, Miss Eleanor Crouse, and the twenty pupils were forced to flee for their lives and were unable to save any of the school books or furnishings of the building.

The fire was first discovered by Moses Mayberry, who was passing by and noticed one corner of the roof burning. It is thought that the blaze came from a spark from the flue. When discovered the roof above the entrance was a mass of flames, and within a very short time the building was reduced to ashes. It is understood that the loss was practically covered by insurance.

It has not yet been determined whether or not the present school term is to continue for the remaining six weeks. There is a possibility that an arrangement may be made whereby the term may be finished in a private house in the neighborhood.

JAIL INMATE SAYS TREATMENT IS GOOD

Certain rumors have been in circulation for some time past in connection with the manner in which Mrs. Laura Duncan, an inmate of the County Jail, has been detained. The following statement is made by the said Mrs. Laura Duncan:

Statement of Mrs. Laura Duncan: "I have been informed that Miss Edith Neal, probation officer of the County of Morgan, has been circulating the report that the conditions in connection with my detention at the Morgan County Jail have not been as they should, and in answer thereto will say that I am perfectly satisfied with the treatment that I receive and have all the privacy that I desire. A door leading from the office of said jail to the cell room in which I am confined has been left open at my especial request of Mrs. Weatherford, matron of said jail. All statements to the effect that I have no privacy or that I am mistreated in any manner is false. Hoping that this statement will put to an end a wrong impression, I am,

USE OF LEGUMES FOR VARIOUS PURPOSES

Importance in a Balanced Rotation.—Legume crops must be grown on a majority of our farms if the soil nitrogen is to be maintained economically. This is not the only reason for growing legumes, however. In the corn belt, in the cotton belt, and the wheat growing section of the northwest where one crop is outstandingly more profitable than any other, the proposition of the crop area which is devoted to this unimproved crop is usually very large, and almost always too large to meet the requirements of a good crop rotation. The introduction of a legume crop into the corn belt rotation almost of necessity results in a considerable amount of diversification in the crops grown. It requires a small grain in addition to the corn crop. In the central and northern portions of the state, oats is the most common small grain, with wheat ranking second in importance. In actual farming practice the introduction of a legume crop into the rotation is an important factor in bringing about a reasonable amount of diversity, and a certain balance between the several crops which must be grown to work in satisfactorily with the legumes. The factors of diversity and balance are of importance in distributing horse and man labor evenly throughout the cropping season.

This means economy in the use of these two items which make up from 50-60 percent of the total operating expense (excluding interest on the land or rent) in producing corn belt crops. Diversity and balance are also of importance because they help to avoid some of the risk necessarily involved in any type of farming in which one crop makes up a large part of the crop rotation. This, the introduction of the legume and the necessary change in the rotation accompanying it, helps to insure a constant income in the farming business." W. F. Madachin, U. of I.

Legumes as Means of Fighting the Chinch-Bugs, 1921.

It has been said with much truth that farming is the greatest gambling game in the world, for when everything is considered there are many factors of crop production over which even the most careful, far-sighted, and painstaking farmer has absolutely no control. He must, each season, take chances on too much or too little rain at certain times of the year; too hot or too cold a season; early or late frosts; attacks of insects and fungi; and several other factors which may destroy his crop and about which he can tell nothing when planning the acreage of each crop. Sometimes nature is kind enough to warn us in advance that some of these factors may be more than usually important during a certain year, and this is just what she has done for 1921.

We know that in nearly half of the state the chinch-bugs are hidden away in their winter quarters in such numbers that will cause enormous destruction to all grass crops if the coming May and June prove moderately warm and dry. We know, too, that the chinch-bugs will not harm any crops belonging to the legume family—Cowpeas, soybeans, alfalfa, red, alsike, and sweet clover, in fact, any legume which we can grow, is entirely immune from injury by this tremendously destructive little insect. On the other hand, we know that every crop belonging to the grass family, which includes all our small grains and corn, will be seriously damaged through the south half of the state, if these insects are as abundant next season as now seems highly probable. Several of the legume crops have proved fully as profitable as the grains in this section of the state. Knowing the situation as we do, it is highly important that the largest possible acreage of legumes be grown next season. By doing this the farmers will not only be sure of having a crop that the bugs will not damage next season, but as the chinch-bug will not feed and consequently cannot breed and multiply on the legume crops, they will be adopting one of the best methods known for reducing the number of bugs in the season of 1922."—W. P. Flint, Ill. Nat. History Survey.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS MET THURSDAY NIGHT

A special meeting of the directors of the local Y. M. C. A. was held last night at the association headquarters. The main feature for discussion was the current year's budget, and it was decided to put on a campaign the middle of March to raise a fund sufficient for a two years' budget. The money which it will be sought to raise at that time will be the amount necessary to cover the current expenses for the next two years.

The directors also decided to inaugurate a campaign for a new building as soon as business conditions are sufficiently settled to warrant it.

J. S. Horton, business manager of the Y. M. C. A., college of Chicago was present at the meeting and told the directors something about the aims of the college and of its service to the community. The college is engaged in the task of training Y. M. C. A. employed officers and each year a number of young men leave its walls prepared to undertake the carrying on of Y. M. C. A. work in various communities.

CLEAN GETAWAY IS MADE BY BANDITS IN TOLEDO MAIL THEFT

This is Admitted by the Authorities Investigating Case

ABANDONED CAR FOUND TWO MILES AWAY

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 17.—Police and postoffice inspectors at work on the holdup of three clerks at the main postoffice early this morning and theft of several sacks of registered and unregistered mail, admitted tonight that the robbers made a clean getaway. Postmaster George W. Lathrop, could give no information as to the value of the stolen mail as every office slip would have to be checked up before the contents of the sacks could be determined. The loot according to Postoffice Inspector Diskin, consisted of two sacks of registered mail from Cleveland, one from Washington, D. C., both over the New York Central railroad. One from Detroit over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, two made up between Detroit and Toledo and three pouches of unregistered mail from Detroit. In abandoned automobile was found by the police two miles from the scene of the robbery and a box of shotgun shells and a slouch hat bearing the label of a Detroit department store. The car was taken in the holdup of a garage early Wednesday morning by three men.

REAR-ADMIRAL BADGER WILL RETIRE THIS MONTH

Washington, Feb. 17.—Rear-Admiral Charles J. Badger, who has been head of the navy general board since the death of Admiral Dewey, will return to the retired list at his own request Feb. 28, Admiral Badger retired in August, 1915, but he was retained on active duty with full pay by special act of congress. Admiral Badger's successor has not been named but it was assumed that it would be Rear-Admiral W. L. Rodgers.

SECRETARYSHIP OF NAVY DECLINED BY FORMER GOVERNOR

Lowden Says Personal Affairs Prevent His Acceptance

HIS FRIENDS WANTED TREASURY JOB

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 17.—President-Elect Harding's cabinet problem developed another difficulty today when Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and a leading candidate for the presidential nomination at last year's Republican convention sent word that he could not permit himself to be considered longer for secretary of the navy.

The former governor's definite declination left a blank in the cabinet slate, which may not be readily filled. Altho he had indicated before that he did not desire the appointment Mr. Harding and his advisers had stood pat and counted on a change of mind to enable the selection to be made. As a result they now must begin sorting over a considerable list of other men mentioned for the navy portfolio. Where the choice may fall is regarded as the most uncertain question left in the whole cabinet situation.

In asking that his name be erased from the tentative cabinet list Mr. Lowden wired the president-elect that his personal affairs made it impossible for him to enter the public service at the present time.

Thus, he removed himself also from the field of possibilities for diplomatic appointments, with which his name had been linked many times. Whatever inspired story may have been behind Mr. Lowden's actions there was no outward evidence at Mr. Harding's headquarters that serious friction had developed regarding it. The president-elect himself expressed extreme regret at the development, saying he held the former governor in high regard and had hoped ever since election to bring him into the service of the government.

It is known that some of the warmest Lowden supporters at the Chicago convention have brought influence to bear for Mr. Lowden's selection to the secretaryship of the treasury, a post now understood to be virtually awarded to Andrew W. Mellon, of Pennsylvania. Others sought his appointment as ambassador to Great Britain or France.

BOXING MATCH BETWEEN STUDENTS
Peoria, Ill., Feb. 17.—The crowd at the college basketball game here tonight, which Bradley Institute won from Carthage 42 to 19, was treated to an added attraction between halves when a three round boxing bout was staged between Freddie Howells and Kenneth Kraker, both students at the local school.

The ring was pitched in the center of the gymnasium, and the boxing bout brought out more enthusiasm than the play of the basketball teams. The trial bout was so successful that others will be offered at all the home games of the Bradley team Director of Athletics Robertson announced.

CHURCH HOSPITALS NEED MANY BEDS

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—There is a need for $40,000 hospital beds in this country. Dr. Frank Clare English, executive secretary of the Protestant Hospital association said today in an address before the National Methodist Hospitals and Homes Association.

"Our church hospitals reject 1,000,000 applicants annually and are losing an opportunity to care for 100,000 orphans and foundlings because we lack both room and finances," Dr. English said.

He said that 24,000 children are annually cared for by 300 homes maintained by Protestant churches. "But there are 100,000 homeless or uncared for old people in the United States who should receive attention," Dr. English said.

ISSUE REGULATIONS ON LIQUOR SHIPMENTS

May Be Moved By Lawful Owner To Private Dwelling—Liquor In Bond Cannot Be Withdrawn.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Regulations were issued tonight by the Internal Revenue Bureau governing the transportation of liquor for beverage purposes in accordance with the recent decision of the supreme court on the question of intoxicants acquired before the advent of permanent prohibition, January 17, 1920.

Such liquors, the regulations provide, may be moved by their owner from a place of storage to his private dwelling for the use of himself and family or guests entertained there. Permits for the transportation of lawfully acquired liquor however, must be obtained from federal prohibition directors. Liquor held in bond, however, may not be withdrawn for beverage purposes.

Liquors lawfully obtained before national prohibition, the regulations provide, may be received by the heirs of the deceased owner, who would have the same rights of possession and transportation as the original owner. All persons possessing lawfully acquired liquor in storage outside their dwellings are required by the regulations to make a report to the prohibition director of their state within thirty days showing the kinds and quantities owned. No report is necessary covering liquor now held in a private dwelling. Liquor may not be removed or transported in violation of any state or federal law making such removal or transportation illegal the bureau ruled.

ANNOUNCE CUT IN NEWS PRINT PRICE

Price of Five and Seven-Tenths Cents Per Pound for Carload Lots for Delivery During Second Quarter of Year.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The International paper company today announced here the price of five and seven-tenths cents per pound on newsprint in rolls for carload lots for delivery during the second quarter of the current year.

This quotation which amounts to $14 per ton compares with $120 per ton on deliveries during this year and the final quarter in 1920.

The company also has given customers the option of accepting a quotation of five and one-half cents per pound from April 1 to the end of the year. This figure lowers the tonnage price to $110. In the event customers do not elect to take the flat price of five and one-half cents a pound for the balance of the year, after April 1st, they can continue under the present plan of having quotations adjusted quarterly.

WILL INVESTIGATE LOWER INSURANCE RATE
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 17.—A thorough investigation as to why rates for automobile theft insurance are 50 per cent lower in Milwaukee than in Chicago was opened today when five representatives of bonding houses of Chicago called upon District Attorney W. C. Zabel for a conference.

"Automobile thieves in Milwaukee," said the district attorney, "are treated as criminals. An automobile thief is brought to court and is sent to jail for crime. There is no back stairway leading to the judge's private chambers from an alderman's office."

The committee will attempt to remodel the court procedure of Chicago along lines of the Milwaukee plan.

LABORING MEN REDUCE WAGES
Lacrosse, Wis., Feb. 17.—A reduction of ten per cent in wages was announced by the bricklayers' and masons' union here, members agreeing with contractors to accept this cut. Under the new scale the bricklayers will receive $1.12 1/2 and the masons $7 1/2 cents per hour.

JAPAN WILL HAVE TO MAKE WAR IF WE HAVE IT—MILLER

Says United States Has the Right to Regulate Aliens

CLAMOR AND JAZZ HAS LEAD TO WAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Refusal of Japan to make any move toward disarmament until she has completed her battleship and cruiser program was declared by Representative Miller, Republican, Washington, today to mean preparation by Japan for war "unless the cool headed statesmen and diplomats of Japan purge the demagogue, jingo and junkies that now appear to have the public eye and ear."

Urging in a speech in the house the strengthening of Pacific coast defenses, Representative Miller declared that although every day of the world "we hear the rattle of the sabre from across the Pacific" there was no possibility of war between the United States and Japan unless the latter made it.

Japan, Representative Miller told the house, need have no fear of aggression from America as Americans were not planting colonies on her soil.

Have Right of Regulation
"Japan's subjects however," he added, "are undertaking and are colonizing ours. We shall reserve unto ourselves at whatever costs, the right to say who, when, where and how the alien shall come to us and settle among us."

The people of the Pacific coast, Mr. Miller declared, "are not frightened nor are we timid." "We are just ordinary, practical every day Americans like you, prompted by the same motives, responding to the same influences, reading the same signs," he continued.

"Every day of the world we hear the rattle of the sabre from across the Pacific. The rattle is louder on the coast than it is here for we are 4,000 miles nearer the empire of the rising sun."

"Only the other day," Representative Miller continued, "our public press carried photographic reproductions of the scenes in Japan where students were publicly discussing the advisability of war with the United States. Curious and snubby bearings towards Americans have already become popular in Japan."

Such was not the case with the thinking and responsible people, he declared, adding, "but many a nation better poised than Japan has been led to war by the clamor and jazz of her thoughtless class."

FAMILY BURNS IN HOME; MAN ARRESTED

MONCLON, Neb., Feb. 17.—Gayus Steeves, whose wife and five children lost their lives in a fire which destroyed their home last Tuesday, was arrested tonight and charged with murder.

"I have a clear conscience," Steeves said, as he was being locked up.

MRS. R. P. ALLAN IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Well Known Resident of Riggston Died at Early Hour Thursday Morning After Illness of Several Weeks.

Death came to Mrs. Robert P. Allan of Riggston at Passavant hospital at 5 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Allan had been ill for several weeks with an affection of the throat, which later developed into a case of double pneumonia. For several days her condition had been critical and the end came after a period of more than 24 hours of unconsciousness.

Mrs. Allan's name before her marriage was Sarah Victorine McCullough. She was born Oct. 9, 1863, and was the oldest daughter of William and Emily Jane McCullough, prominent and long time residents of Scott county. The old McCullough home was located not far from Riggston and it was there that Mrs. Allan spent all the years of childhood and maturity.

As a young woman the deceased was united in marriage with Robert P. Allan, and to this union three children were born. Mrs. Allan survives, together with one daughter, Mrs. William A. Fay of this city, and two sons, Robert and Clifford of the Riggston neighborhood.

In early life the deceased became a member of the Methodist church of Riggston and thru all the years her interest in that church has been maintained and her life was in every way consistent with her own strict religious belief.

Mrs. Allan had no interests more important than those of the home and it was there that those who knew her best came to a full understanding of the worth of her character and the sincerity of her desire to serve. The kindness of her heart reached out beyond the family circle and there are many who can testify to the generosity of her spirit—her willingness to give in time and service in the way best suited to the need. The hospitality of her home was a matter of common knowledge both to those friends who lived near at hand and those farther away. So her going has brought sadness to many hearts, as those who knew her strive to understand why a life of such usefulness should come to a close before its winter.

Mrs. Allan leaves the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. John Allyn of St. Louis, Mrs. T. W. B. Everhart of Los Angeles, Cal., Mrs. H. B. Gibbs of near Winchester, A. C. McCullough of Lynnville, W. E. McCullough, William McCullough, and G. H. McCullough of Riggston, four grandchildren and other relatives.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of A. G. Cody, prepared for burial and later taken to the family home twelve miles west of Jacksonville.

Farewell Party Given for Mr. and Mrs. Clay Roach

About thirty friends and neighbors surprised Mr. and Mrs. Clay Roach of the Pisgah neighborhood Thursday evening. The affair was in the nature of a farewell party as Mr. and Mrs. Roach are soon to leave for their new home in Concord. It was also the birthday of Ora White who makes his home with them and it also was observed fittingly.

The evening was pleasantly spent with music, games and contests. In the guessing contest the prizes were awarded to John Lukeman and Miss Lucinda Moseley. At a late hour refreshments were served. While regretting to lose Mr. and Mrs. Roach the company expressed hope of much happiness for them in their new home.

FARM LEGISLATION GENERALLY SOUGHT

Improvement in Marketing, Financing and Education Sought by Various State Legislatures Better Community Protection Asked.

Chicago.—Farm legislation most generally sought this winter in central western farming states where legislatures are in session appears to follow the line of marketing and co-operative effort, according to a survey made by The Associated Press.

Education, protection from fraudulent speculation, improvement of farm finance and betterment of farm tenant conditions are other measures in which widespread farming interest is manifest.

In several states a better organization of the state agricultural administration is sought. Better community protection thru the establishment of rural police or constabulary is asked in others.

Co-operative marketing organizations among producers along lines already proven successful in the Minnesota Potato Exchange proposed legislation was sponsored by Gov. J. A. O. Preus in his campaign last fall. Ohio farmers ask increased appropriations for developing and extending the state market bureau to encourage co-operative buying and selling between farm producers and consumers direct.

It is also proposed in Ohio that the state university establish a course for training leaders in organizing for co-operative buying and selling.

Kansas farmers seek a state market bureau that would furnish information on market conditions generally and act to some extent as a clearing house for orders for farm products. In Arkansas it is proposed to give the state agricultural commissioner authority to fix grades and standards of farm products, to enforce a uniform grading law, and generally to facilitate better marketing of farm products. Among finance proposals a law is urged in Illinois for the organization of farm loan societies to loan money to farmers on long term first and second mortgages. Farm land credits and rural personal credits are asked in Iowa.

A law to permit the establishment of banks by co-operative associations is sought in Kansas. Adequate appropriation for state educational institutions urged by farmers in number of states indicate agricultural interest in education. Free text books in the common schools are called for in Oklahoma and elsewhere.

In Kansas, where farm tenantry has been much discussed, a law putting into operation an amendment to the state constitution adopted at the last election providing for state aid to farmers in buying farm homes is up. Legislation requiring a tenant to be reimbursed for permanent improvements is advanced in Illinois. Need of better rural protection since the advent of hard roads and the automobile has manifested itself, according to farmers in Illinois, where a state constabulary has been endorsed, and in Ohio, where a modified rural police bill, using county sheriffs and constables as a nucleus is proposed.

Columbus, Ga., Feb. 17.—Major General Leonard Wood, attending a firing demonstration at Camp Benning here today stated to newspapermen that he had not been tendered the post of governor general of the Philippines by President-elect Harding, as has been recently reported. The general said that inasmuch as he had not been offered the post, he could not say whether he would accept it if tendered to him.

FREIGHT CAR SURPLUS IS PILING UP

Washington, Feb. 17.—A freight car surplus is piling up at the rate of 25,000 a week the American Railway Association said today. Already 358,065 cars including 122,000 coal carriers are reported idle as against a shortage of 150,000 freight cars November 10, the announcement said.

SPALDING WILL PLAY ROUT HERE TONIGHT

Strong Peoria Team Will Be Here to Play Local Five for Down-State Championship. Rout is in Good Shape for Game.

When Spalding Institute of Peoria and Rout, high class basketball there is always something doing. For many years these teams have been rivals and a game between them usually decides the championship of parochial schools in the state.

Tonight the Peoria five will play Rout at Liberty hall. Both teams are on edge for the fray and fans will see one of the fastest games ever played in Jacksonville.

Rout has been putting in some hard practice for the game and her players are ready to give the visitors the time of their lives when the referee sounds his whistle to start the game.

Following the game, with Spalding, Rout will play Virginia high here Saturday night. The Spalding five will journey to Lebanon where they will engage the fast McKendree college five. This shows the class of teams Spalding is playing this year.

Play will be called tonight at 8:20 o'clock. Rout will probably line up as follows: J. Zell, Mandeville, forwards; Woulfe, center; Gwinn, R. Zell, guards.

MINORITY REPORT IS PRESENTED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Sweeping and drastic federal regulation of the coal industry at this time is unjustified, Senator Gray, Democrat, of Louisiana said in a minority report filed today and based on the Calder committee's investigation of that industry. The majority members of the committee brought forward the pending coal regulation measure.

The Louisiana senator charged that the installation of a license system for business concerns dealing in coal would be a precedent for legislation in other industries. Without defending profiteering during the shortage last summer, he said that with proper attention to railroad conditions another scarcity could not develop.

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 17.—East End shops here of the Norfolk & Western railroad will close down next Saturday until March 1 for lack of work under notices posted today. About 1,500 men are affected.

CARUSO HOLDING HIS OWN, PHYSICIANS SAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Physicians attending Mr. Caruso gave out the following bulletin: "Mr. Caruso is holding his own. He has had a better day and is resting comfortably. His fever and inflammation continue to show a lessened virulence." "Dr. Even Evans." "Dr. Francis J. Murra." "Dr. Antonio Stella." "Dr. Samuel Lambert."

THE OLD HOUSE ALIGHT FOR MARRIAGE SERVICE

Miss Clara Catherine Moore Is Bride of Mr. Benton Nelms—Impressive Home Ceremony.

There is real significance in the phrase "the old house alight" which appears in the headlines above, for there are few homes in Jacksonville which equal that of Mr. and Mrs. Ensey Moore of 855 West State street. The "old house" was brightly lighted last night for the marriage service of Miss Clara Catherine Moore and Mr. Benton Nelms of Springfield. It was a service marked by a distinctive dignity and stateliness and relatives and immediate friends to the number of eighty gathered for this impressive wedding event. Mr. and Mrs. Moore and Miss Margaret Moore received the guests. Before the ceremony Mrs. Helen Brown Read, with Miss Lalla Skinner as accompanist, sang "Beloved It is Morn" by Aylward, and the beautiful hymn, "Oh Perfect Love." An orchestra from the Woman's college, made up largely of Miss Moore's pupils, played the Serenade by Tild before the ceremony and as the wedding party came down the stairway and moved into the parlor the nocturne from Midsummer Night's Dream was played. Miss Ruth Bailey and Miss Katherine Barr made an aisle with ribbons for the passage of the wedding party. The groomsmen were Mr. George Smith of Lincoln, Neb., and Mr. Fred Bray of Chicago. Mr. Nelms was attended by Mr. M. L. Clark of Springfield as best man.

Little Ruth Walton, dressed in pink and white, was the ring bearer and the two rings for the service nestled in the bouquet she carried. The bridesmaids were Miss Lillian Havenhill of this city, and Miss Ella Morrison of Wayne, Neb., and the maid of honor was Miss Ainslie Moore.

The bride entered with her father, Mr. Ensey Moore. The bride's gown was of white tulle trimmed with Brussels lace. The handsome wedding veil of tulle had been worn by Mrs. Moore on her wedding day.

The maid of honor and each of the bridesmaids wore a gown of white tulle. Each carried a formal bouquet of pink roses and lilies. The bride's bouquet was of the same type, with a mingling of bride's roses and lilies.

The bride and groom stood before Dr. Edward B. Landis of Carbondale, and in a double ring ceremony spoke the vows that united them for all the years that life may hold. The vows were spoken as the principals and their attendants stood in the parlor before a bank of ferns with Easter lilies on either side.

With the final words of the service the orchestra played the Mendelssohn March and the guests extended their congratulations and good wishes.

As indicated, the parlor decorations were in green and white and the same colors prevailed in the hallway and living room. In the dining room pink roses were used effectively. It was in this room that the generous hospitality of the home was most apparent. The blazing fire place gave a radiance which could come from no other source, and made more beautiful the candelabra and the roses that adorned the center table. In this room Mrs. M. H. Havenhill and Mrs. O. C. Guthrie were in charge, assisted by a group of young women from the Woman's college.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelms left on a late train for Chicago and after a brief stay there will establish their home in Springfield. Mrs. Nelms is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moore and is rightly accounted one of the finest young women Jacksonville has known. Her college course was supplemented by a year of musical study in Brussels and several months of European travel. Years of service in the faculty of the College of Music here have afforded proof of her artistic ability.

From the days of childhood Mrs. Nelms has been associated with work in various departments of Westminster church and she has done her full share in making the Moore family an influence in the affairs of this historic church. Rare fineness of character coupled with a strong mentality has made for this February bride a real place in the life of the community.

Mr. Nelms, who is a son of Dr. and Mrs. P. M. Nelms, is a native of Houston, Texas. After his educational training Mr. Nelms entered the railroad service as a dispatcher and was subsequently transferred to the Western Union Telegraph Co. His advancement has been rapid and he now holds the important position as manager of the Springfield office of the company, one of the largest in the state outside of Chicago. For more than a year during the war period he was in the signal service of the U. S. army and his appointment to the Springfield position came almost immediately following his release from the army. Jacksonville people who have learned to know Mr. Nelms in past months are quite sure that he is well worthy of his Jacksonville bride.

Social Events

Entertain for Newlyweds.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Swain entertained at their home in Sinclair Thursday evening in honor of their son Albert Swain and wife. About 100 were present and considerable noise was made but the company was quickly invited into the house where refreshments were served. The evening was spent in a pleasant social way.

Hospital Aid Meets.

The Hospital ladies aid met yesterday afternoon at Passavant hospital. There was a good attendance and a great deal of sewing was done. A business session was also held and some tentative plans discussed for the spring work of the organization.

Mound Club Hear

Discipline of Yellowstone.

The Mound Women's Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Kitner on Mound Avenue. Each member answered roll call with "Valentines that please me most." The club then took a delightful imaginary trip to Yellowstone park. Mrs. Will Groves acted as the guide and told in a most interesting and picturesque manner of the beauties and wonder of our National park.

During the social hour, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and the members had an informal discussion on the topic, "Emergency desserts."

Phi Omega Met Last Evening.

The Phi Omega society of the Illinois Conservatory of Music met last evening at the Conservatory. There was a good attendance and an interesting program was given as follows:

Current events—Catherine Parker. Piano solo—Mildred Fredlin. Violin solo—Dorothy Graef. Vocal solo—Blanche Tripp.

A paper on "The Growth of Symphonic Music and Orchestras in America," was given by Miss Anna Frances Bradley. The progress of these organizations was discussed and the comparative merits of contemporary American orchestras was given.

Woolworth People

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jaeger. The employees of the Woolworth Store were very pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jaeger on North Diamond street. It was a jolly, get-together party and the guests spent the evening with music and various kinds of games. Excellent refreshments were served by the hostess and the guests enjoyed the hospitality of the Jaeger home until a late hour.

Centenary Ladies Have

Birthday Social.

Mrs. Martha Hoover was hostess to the Ladies Aid of Centenary church yesterday afternoon at her home on South East street. The event was the February birthday social and the other hostesses were Mrs. Anna Brown, chairman of the committee; Mrs. H. H. Stevenson, Mrs. Elizabeth Alexander, Mrs. Homer Roland, Mrs. Edgar Hoffman, Miss Mercy Jackson, Miss Maggie Becker and Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison.

The hours were pleasantly passed in a social way and delicious refreshments were served in the course of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Henderson entertained a number of their friends at their home near Ebenezer. After a most elaborate dinner had been served the guests spent the afternoon with conversation and music. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Patterson and son, Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Black, John Black, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shibe and family and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moxon and family.

Missionary Society of Northminster Meets.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Northminster church held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon with a large attendance.

Mrs. Carrie Joquin was devotional leader and Mrs. Martha Day leader. Articles on foreign missions were read by Mrs. Robert Asher and home missions by Mrs. Howard Sheppard of Waverly. Special music was furnished by Virginia Pires and Margaret Corao. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Nettie Timmerman.

Vice Pres.—Lorine Ferreira. Sec. and Collector—Margaret Corao.

Treasurer—Mrs. Mary Day. Cor. Sec.—Effie Martin. Organist—Lillian Sardinha. Asst. organist—Jennie DeFries.

Children Work: Pres.—Mrs. A. P. Vasconcellos. Assistants—Mrs. Wm. Bieher, Virginia Fries.

Ladies' Aid of Murraville Church Met.

The Ladies' Aid of the Murraville M. E. church held a birthday social Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Hayes. Fifteen of the members whose birthdays occur in January and February were the hostesses and they had arranged a program which proved most entertaining to the thirty-eight ladies present.

The president, Mrs. Susan Carlson, presided and the meeting opened with the singing of America. Following a prayer by Mrs. H. B. Daniel came a brief business session and later the following program was carried out:

Reading, "The Inventor's Wife,"—Mrs. Susan Carlson. Paper, "The First Lady of the Land,"—Mrs. Alfred Lamb.

Vocal solo—Mrs. Maude Rimbey. Reading, "A New Year's Resolution,"—Mrs. Clara Solomon.

Reading, "Two Golden Days"—Mrs. H. B. Daniel. Piano solo—Mrs. Iva Short.

Reading of program of first annual meeting of the Aid twenty-five years ago—Mrs. Mary Wright. Vocal solo with guitar accompaniment—Mrs. Lydia White.

Selected readings—Miss Hannah Atkinson.

At the close of the program came a delightful social hour and at this time refreshments of sandwiches, fruit salad, angel food cake and coffee were served. Altogether it was a most pleasant affair.

FOOTBALL BY PLAYS

INSTEAD OF TIME

Harvard Graduate Puts Forward Idea—Says Team That Scores First Usually Wins—That Is True—Usually the Better Team Scores First.

Boston, Feb. 17.—To run football by plays instead of by the watch will be argued again before the football rules committee at its annual meeting in New York early next month.

H. R. Coffin, a graduate of Harvard University and a gridiron enthusiast who presented the plan last year will advance it again with data gained from last season's collegiate games.

It is Coffin's contention that the use of timing to regulate the use of plays makes it possible for a team that gains the initial advantage to stall thereafter. He points out that in thirty-nine games between Yale and Harvard all but one, the contest of 1916, that was incorrectly timed, have been won by the team that scored first.

WITH THE SICK

Squire Beekman of Pisgah, who is a patient at Passavant hospital is improving nicely. William Frances, 816 Hardin avenue, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis at Passavant hospital, is improving in a satisfactory manner.

Mrs. George Barrette was yesterday able to leave Passavant hospital and is now at the home of her brother, Harry T. Strawn on Sandusky street.

FARMERS TALK ABOUT LIVESTOCK

Illinois Agricultural Association Member Outlined Plan for Forming Livestock Organization.

L. R. Rishel, a representative of the Illinois Agricultural association was in Jacksonville yesterday to hold a conference with the managers and directors of the livestock shipping associations in this county and with others who propose to organize such associations. It will be remembered that at the conference held in various parts of the county during recent weeks by County Agent Kendal that in nearly every instance there has been a great deal of interest in this project.

The purpose of the shipping associations is to give the man who raises animals in less than car load lots the advantage of shipping to the market without the payment of the profit and commission that individual buyers must have. Mr. Rishel spoke from broad experience and those present were greatly interested in his suggestions.

DEATHS

England.

Brief mention was made yesterday of the death of James England. The deceased was born Oct. 25, 1844, in Tennessee and came to this state when he was a lad of nine. He was for many years a resident of this city and had the good opinion of those who knew him well.

Mr. England is survived by three daughters and one son, Mrs. Minnie Ingram, of Peoria; Mrs. Ollie Frye, of Des Moines, and Mrs. Belle Johnson of Beardstown, and Edward England of Alton. He also leaves a sister and a brother, Mrs. Emeline Tucker and John A. England of Roadhouse.

The remains were removed to the Gillham Funeral Home and the service will be held there this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

HOW TO VANQUISH POULTRY LICE AND MITES

The presence of lice and mites seriously affects the efficiency of the flock. Not only do the pests lower the vigor and impair the powers of growth, but they reduce the egg production, the quality of marketable poultry, and in the case of young, may even cause death.

"The first essential in the control of lice and mites on poultry," says Prof. J. J. Davis of Purdue, "is proper housing. Simple convenient construction which permits easy cleaning and treating when necessary, is very desirable. Infested houses should be thor- oughly cleaned of all refuse and thoroughly sprayed with crude petroleum or carbolineum, care being taken to drive the spray in- to all cracks and concealing places. Painting the roosts with creosote wood preservative after cleaning and spraying is recom- mended."

Commercial sodium fluoride, a powder which can be purchased at most drug stores, is thoroughly efficient in destroying poultry lice. The treatment must be thorough. Application may be made as a dust or as a liquid, the former being preferable. By the dust method a small pinch of the powder is applied among the feathers next to the skin on the head, neck, back, breast, below the vent, on the tail and beneath the wing or elsewhere that lice occur.

"As a dip it is used at the rate of one ounce of commercial or two-thirds of an ounce of chemically pure sodium fluoride to each gallon of water. The fowl should be thoroughly dipped in this mixture holding it by the wings and using one hand to ruffle the plumage to assist penetra- tion of the insecticide."

"The thorough cleaning of poultry as mentioned is effective against the common chicken mite, but for certain other less common kinds of mites attacking poultry it is necessary to give the fowls an additional treatment. Effective control is secured by dusting with sulphur or dipping with a sulphur mixture, the former being preferable during cold weather. The dip used is a mixture of four ounces of sulphur, two ounces of soap, and one gallon of water. The first grade of flowers of sulphur should be used and any common yellow or resin soap containing the least amount of free alkali is satisfactory. In dipping the same method as when dipping with sodium fluoride should be used. In dusting, flowers of sulphur should be used and the dusting be thor- ough, care being taken to see that the dust gets in among the feathers and is evenly distributed. The sulphur dipping treatment is also effective against other mites and lice excepting the red mites. If the flock was not treated for these pests early in the fall it should be done before brooding time in the spring. During cold, windy weather dipping should be avoided but dusting can be done any time."

AMERICAN FARM BUREAU FEDERATION NEWS NOTES

At 10 a. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 23, the Farmers' Live Stock Marketing Committee of Fifteen, appointed by the President of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will hold its first session in the Congress hotel, Chicago. The eyes of stockmen the country over are on this committee. Its investigations will be followed with deepest interest. Its recom- mendations are expected to furnish the basis for the most ad- vanced steps ever taken in Amer- ica for the improvement of live stock marketing.

The When your gift corn dona- tion leaves your community be- lieve that a conspicuous banner is prominently displayed on either side of the box car. Let the world know what manner of man this American farmer is.

The American Farm Bureau Federation is inviting other or- ganizations to join with it in call- ing a shippers' conference to be held at the Congress hotel, in Chicago, on Monday, March 14.

The conference will consider ways and means of reducing ship- ping freight rates. In addition to the shippers, representatives of both the railroads and the rail- road employees will be invited to attend. President J. R. Howard states that the farmer, as well as business in general, is suffering from excessive freight charges authorized by the Interstate Com- merce Commission and effective on Aug. 25, 1920.

The Department of Transpor- tation reports that the American Federation was represented at a recent hearing on the rules and regulations covering the mini- mum weights and rates charged on mixed carloads of live stock. The present rule calls for the use of the highest minimum weight and the highest rate on any kind of stock. A modification of this rule, which causes excessive charges, was asked.

The Western Trunk Line Com- mittee docketed a hearing on the restoration of the furnishing of two single-deck cars in lieu of one double-deck car ordered im- mediately instead of after 48 hours.

The Transportation Depart- ment presented the view that the shipper shouldn't be penalized by keeping his stock in the pens 48 hours.

In Omaha, on Feb. 14, the In- terstate Commerce Commission heard a complaint attacking the failure of the carriers to absorb terminal charges on live stock shipments to and from Omaha.

The American Farm Bureau Fed- eration was represented in this proceeding, involving 75 cents on every car of stock shipped to or from the Omaha stockyards.

A further hearing will be held in Chicago commencing Feb. 16, at which time the Transportation Department will urge action in the interest of shippers. The present minimum weight sheep double-deck is 22,000 pounds. We are endeavoring to seek the establishment of a minimum weight of 18,000 pounds.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS
The tax books are now in the collector's office and taxes extended stand as judgments against all parties mentioned therein.

Persons paying on personal property only should pay the tax promptly and avoid trouble and expense in collection. The judgment reads as fol- lows: "In case any person named in said books shall ne- glect or refuse to pay their personal tax, you shall levy the same by distress, and sale of goods and chattels of such person." Parties paying on real estate should bring their old tax receipts to save time and avoid mistakes. If pay- ing thru the banks, leave your old receipts with your bank as soon as possible.

ROOF FIRE AT HOME OF ALDERMAN MOORE

The fire department was called to the city residence of Ald. George A. Moore, 645 East State street, at 6:10 o'clock Thursday morn- ing.

Edward Ornellas, tower man for the Burlington and Alton rail- roads at East Clinton avenue, saw the fire in the roof of the Moore residence and turned in the alarm.

The department made a quick response and extinguished the blaze with the chemical. Mr. Moore who was in the house did not know about the fire until the arrival of the department. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

DEPARTMENT CALLED TO RESCUE PIGEON

Thursday Chief Hunt of the fire department, was called to rescue a pigeon which had become entan- gled in a wire in the tower of State Street Presbyterian church.

The bird had been hanging since Wednesday. Chief Hunt was un- able to reach it with ladders and Officer Baker was called and shot it, thus ending its misery.

BIRDS AND THE FEDERAL LAW

The robins and blue-birds are here again, but this does not mean that spring has come. Both arrived a little earlier than usual according to records kept by a local observer. Frequently a few robins remain here all winter in the forests or near supplies of wild fruits. Both robins and blue birds winter from southern Illi- nois southward, and usually come north with the first warm southern winds. Both birds can withstand cold weather, if food is available, but are hard put for food when a snow covers every- thing.

The bluebirds usually frequent the tops of trees and live upon both insects and fruits, while the robin is a frequenter of the lower parts of the trees and shrubbery, spends much time on the ground and lives largely on fruit at this season and until soft insects appear.

If one wants to coax the robins, sliced apples, even if partially decayed, thrown where the birds are observed, will soon attract them and they will come regularly for them until insects become plentiful with the coming of warm weather.

Robins and blue birds are not attracted by the same food as the nuthatches, chickadees, juncos, brown creepers, titmice, song sparrows, cardinals, flickers, red bellied woodpeckers, hairy woodpeckers and downy wood- peckers, jays and some others which remain with us the year round or spend the winters here.

These cold weather birds live upon seeds or the insects wintering on trees and shrubbery. A feed- ing place supplied with suet, fat, corn, ground corn, nuts and seeds attract the winter residents.

The winter residents are not so numerous in warm weather as in continued severe weather, but many of them are here now. Careful observers note that our native birds are coming back in larger numbers each year. Their increase is undoubtedly the re- sult of the new United States law for the protection of our native birds. State laws which provided small penalties and were laxly enforced did not help the birds much, but the Federal law which provides heavy penalties for the destruction of practically all of our native birds is proving effective.

"GRANDEST IN WORLD" SAYS MRS. MCCARTHY

Freeport Woman After Tak- ing Tanlac Weighs More Than She Ever Did and is in Perfect Health—Suf- fered Four Years.

"I'm just as strong and healthy now as I ever was in my life, and it certainly is wonderful after suffer- ing for four years like I did," said Mrs. Eva McCarthy, of 101 Lib- erty street, Freeport, Ill.

"Yes, I believe Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world, for it helped me when everything else failed. I had a general break- down in health, and my whole sys- tem was in a weakened, run-down condition. I never knew what it was to eat a good square meal for over three years, and had to live on the lightest kind of a diet, such as cereals and milk. Even this caused me awful distress, and I would have such awful pains in my stomach they made life miserable for me. I was constantly nause- ated, and was never free from gas. My kidneys bothered me a lot, too, and my back felt as if there was a heavy weight on it, dragging me down. My head ached and my nerves were so shattered I couldn't stand the least little noise. I was in agony all the time, and had about given up all hope of ever seeing another well day.

"A friend of mine who had tak- en Tanlac advised me to try it, and in two weeks after I started on the medicine I began to feel like a different person. I kept on taking it until I can now eat and enjoy anything I want, and all my trou- bles have entirely disappeared. I never have an ache or pain, and I weigh more now than I ever did before. I'm certainly thankful for the wonderful health and strength Tanlac has given me, and can never praise the medicine enough."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Cover Drug Co., Wyle Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly, and lead- ing drug store in all cities.—Adv.

J. H. IN TWO FAST GAMES THIS WEEK END

Play Barry There Tonight—Granite City Here Saturday Night...

The High school quintet will play two hard games this week-end. Friday night the team will go to Barry and Saturday night the high school tilters will meet Granite City on the local floor.

On account of the junior-senior banquet, which will be given tonight, the players who are in either of these classes, will not go to Barry. However, there is a strong team going and since the Barry five was trimmed on the local floor recently, there is every reason to believe this team will beat them again.

Hunter, Lewis, Harrison, Mutch, Hunt, Cockin and Deatherage, are the men Mitchell will take on the Barry trip. These men hold the regulars to a pretty even game in practice scrimmages and it is expected they will make a good showing on the Barry floor.

Saturday night Granite City comes here for a game. Little is known of their record this year, but in other years Granite City has had a strong team. Tomorrow night's game promises to be a fast one. This will be an expensive game for the High school to have and it is especially hoped that all Jacksonville people who enjoy a good fast basketball game will be on hand tomorrow night. The High school needs both the support and the money.

The D. A. R. had expected to close their rummage sale Tuesday but during the day merchants and friends sent in such quantities of worth while articles, the sale will be continued thru Friday, Saturday and Saturday night of this week at Zahn's Auto Inn.

Milwaukee, Wis. — By the A. P. — The largest power ever produced in one cylinder in the United States is developed in an engine of the Diesel type just constructed here, its builders announce. The engine with another like it, is to go to Mexico for mining work. It will burn Mexican crude oil.

The weight of one engine is 650,000 pounds. Its fly wheel weighs 60,000 pounds. The engine is about 53 feet long and 17 feet wide, its total height from the floor is 21 feet. The cylinders and frames were so large they had to be built separately. It was necessary to divide the bed plate into four parts so that it could be shipped on standard flat cars.

William Mosley and Porter Stevenson from the region of Sinclair were on the square for a visit Thursday.

ATTITUDE OF PUBLIC AFFECTS PRICE SITUATION.

A year ago the American public was buying by the price tag. A feature of social functions was telling how much the children's shoes or the new table cloth cost. Then the reaction began; almost unnoticed at first, but growing and spreading until now we hear no solitary voice crying in the wilderness but almost the voice of the public, when Mr. Borah in the Senate expresses a wish to cut the expenses of the inauguration of the President—clear to $10.

In the same spirit of economy the housewife ponders before opening her purse. I saw a woman buy one egg in the grocery store the other day. I knew that a year ago she would have been ashamed of such a transaction. Public opinion makes more cowards than conscience. The housewife these days goes to market with her basket on her arm and punches and peers and ponders and often does not buy at all, instead of taking down the handy telephone and ordering largely.

To a certain extent this is highly commendable. The housewives of America have not been notable for thrift. But when distrust of fair prices is in it is far from commendable. When the temper of the people as a whole, is that of waiting to replace necessities, not at fair prices, but at prices which represent a loss to the producer all is not going to continue to be well long with either producer or consumer. We see it right now. The farmer felt the pressure of public opinion first. When the prices of farm produce dropped there was satisfaction on the part of the consuming, non-producing public. However, the public has gotten little out of it except this initial satisfaction. Prices have not gone down for the consumer to any great extent. As for the farmer if he sold his product he sold at a loss and so had nothing to buy. If he stored his product he had hopes of a fair price in the future but still nothing to buy with. Consequently, the commodities the farmer would have bought are on the merchant's shelves. It is not a healthful situation.

During the war the government stepped in and fixed prices. It could not trust private enterprise to forget its pocketbook when there was a fight on hand. Greed is a powerful force among humans. Mark Twain once said that if the government placed a bounty upon rattle snakes every patriot would go to raising them. So when the government found that the military needs of the nation were going to mean a huge demand, it stepped in and fixed prices. After the armistice was signed this control was thrown off. Had it not been thrown off, the results might not, considering the clumsy ignorance of the bureaucratic machinery, have been any better but it is difficult to see how they could have been any worse than they have been in the hands of private enterprise. There followed a period in the United States, France and Great Britain when the volume of production was considerable and the figures on the price tag were considerable, too. We see the effect now in the consumer who declines to consume in the bargain sales which are not tempting money from the public purse in anything like the sums expected, in the daily accounts of the laying off of workmen. A few profiteers have feathered their nests, but for many the feathering process had just begun and now the feathers prove to be full of cottons that refuse to be ignored. The farmer, the wage earner, and the small business man are feeling deflation severely. The farmer selling his product under production cost and seeing the foods and clothing made from his basic commodities still high priced is beginning to wonder just what his place in the economic structure really is. His wonder is a hopeful sign for wonder is the first step towards enlightenment.

Scientific farming has of late years received respectful attention. Perhaps it is time that the selling and distributing end of farming be given the emphasis that leads to understanding.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

New Variety of Soybeans.

Several of our farmers are interested in the Virginia Soy bean. This variety is especially desirable for those who plant soybeans with corn for silage purposes. This soybean develops a tendril that clings to the corn plant so that both beans and corn are cut by the corn binder. Howard Stevenson, E. R. Hemmings and J. W. Arnold will try the new variety this season.

Herbert J. Rucker the new associate adviser for Farm Bureau began work Tuesday. Mr. Rucker will have charge of the livestock and dairying work. He has just completed a three year contract in Effingham county and is a good all around man for farm bureau work. Mr. Rucker will be present at the meeting on Thursday when the managers and Directors of the Livestock Shipping Ass'n in this county meet at the farm bureau office to hear a representative of the I. A. A. give the views of the state organization on such associations. An invitation is given to any person in the county interested in organizing a shipping association to attend this meeting. Meeting will be at 12:30.

Meeting at Orleans.

The members of township 15-9 will hold a get together meeting at Bennett's store building, Orleans at 7 p. m. Friday. A program of work will be developed at this meeting.

Demand for Feeder Hogs.

We have received more inquiries at this office for feeder hogs than we have at any previous time during the past few years. Evidently our farmers propose to market this year's crop on foot. Some feeder hogs are being shipped from Minnesota into the corn belt.

Wages and Farm Labor.

Employers and farm hands are slow in getting together, this season. A good many employers wish to cut the wages of farm hands 20 per cent. Quite a number of farm hands are willing to have their wages reduced somewhat, but not to the extent of 20 per cent. In all probability the well tried help on most of our farms will come to an agreement with their present employers. One of our largest farmers made the statement that the emergency workers in the harvest fields and at threshing time, received wages that gave them their full share of the returns when prices were at their best, in case of the regular help. In his opinion it was not right to attempt to take all of the falling prices out of the regular help.

Clover Seed Prices.

The price of clover seed has been moving steadily downward. We have made arrangements with one elevator to receive and ship our surplus seed at a very nominal cost, but we very frankly confess that we have not had the nerve to ship on a falling market. What we ought to do is to seed from 25 to 50 per cent of our land in clover or other legumes. If we did this we would really have a home market for all of our surplus clover seed, would cut down our acreage of small grain, would get back to pre-war basis and would build up our soil, so that when the time came our soil would be in condition to do so. Let's buy this clover seed of our neighbors.

Fertilizers for Gardens.

This warm weather causes people to ask questions about garden. A supply of barn yard manure is no longer available and the residents of our town must resort to commercial fertilizers. Dried blood and nitrate of soda are both good forms of nitrogenous fertilizers. Bone meal and acid phosphates are excellent forms of phosphate for quick results. Last but not least, it will pay to go to a lumber yard and buy a sack of hydrate lime to scatter over the back yard garden. All of these commercial fertilizers should be worked well into the soil. They may be had in small quantities of local dealers.

MANY STATES STILL SHOW DISCRIMINATION

Laws Show Inequalities Against Women—Trying to Work Out Uniform Laws.

Washington, Feb. 17.—By The Associated Press. — Efforts to reach an agreement on widely divergent plans to remove what are described as inequalities and discriminations still existing in many states against women, possibly thru the creation of an entirely new national organization, will be made by the Woman's Party at its annual convention which begins here Wednesday.

Delegates declare that while the main object for which the party was organized—national woman suffrage—has been attained the victory is not yet complete. Some leaders propose to continue to depend upon obtaining national legislation favorable to their cause by "hating the party in power responsible," and arousing interest in women's legislation among the constituents of members of Congress. Others propose more clearly defined political activities in the states while still others would enter the political arena direct with a full fledged woman's party.

The executive committee, the advisory council and the committee of state chairmen will submit the following resolutions concerning the future program:

"Resolved, that the women here assembled now consecrate themselves, the political freedom of women having been won in the United States, to see that this freedom is not lost in any international government that is established, and to work for the removal of all remaining forms of the subjection of women."

"Resolved, that in order to carry out this program the National Woman's Party disband and a new organization be created."

"Resolved, that in order to promote the object of this organization, it maintain an official magazine."

"Resolved, that the immediate work of the organization shall be the removal of the legal disabilities of women."

The "international government" referred to is explained, is the League of Nations, the covenant of which it is claimed would deprive women of rights they have won in individual countries. The Woman's Party objects particularly, leaders declare, to the clause of the league covenant which provides that where a people are voting, to determine their future nationality "option by husband will cover his wife."

"An official statement issued by the Woman's Party says that in certain states of the United States married women have no control over their children."

"The children's place of abode" the statement says, "can be fixed by their husbands, and the women must vote where their husbands live—a common law rule to domicile that is at the bottom of the statute forcing upon American women who marry foreigners, the nationality of their husbands."

FREE FROM DREAD OF CANCER NOW

Resident of Pleasant Hill, Ill., Says He Was Cured by Dr. Johnson, Kansas City Specialist.

The cure of a cancer without the use of the knife is reported by Samuel Kelly, Pleasant Hill, Ill. He was treated by Dr. O. A. Johnson, eminent cancer specialist of Kansas City, Mo. In a letter to Dr. Johnson, Mr. Kelly says:

"I am glad to say that the cancer on my lip was cured before I left your institution, and is still cured, with no indications of its returning, and I am free from that constant dread of knowing that I had a cancer. My health is good, and I will always feel grateful for the kind treatment I received while under your treatment and will always feel grateful to the kind nurses. It was October 3, 1916, that I came to you for treatment."

"You have my consent to publish my letter, and I will gladly answer anyone that wants to inquire of me in regard to your treatment and my cure."

Dr. Johnson is today one of the foremost in the study of cancer. He conducts in Kansas City, Mo., a large fully equipped Research Laboratory, and has treated many sufferers in the past twenty years. This treatment is entirely non-surgical as the knife is not used at any stage. Purely medicinal measures only are employed; that is, external applications to destroy the cancer and internal medication to purify the blood. Hundreds of patients testify to the success of the Johnson Laboratory.

"Cancer Truths," Dr. Johnson's book, will be sent free to any sufferer or friend. Delay should be avoided. Address O. A. Johnson, Suite 565, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo.—Adv.

PIPING COAL FROM MINES TO NEW YORK CITY

William Reasman Andrews, in the March Popular Mechanics Magazine says:—

With the realization of a project to bring coal through a pipe from the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania to New York, the metropolis will have to fear no repetition of the fuel crisis in 1918, when thousands of tons were "immobilized" on the New Jersey shore in sight of shivering Manhattan, by a heavy freeze that closed navigation, nor, possibly, unreasonable coal prices.

By means of this transportation system, worked out by Reginald P. Bolton, a well known consulting engineer, 10,000,000 tons of coal a year will be forced thru two 18-in. pipes by water pressure over a 130-mile route. An altitude difference of about 2,000 feet between Scranton and New York City will send the coal, mixed half-and-half with water, thru the tubes at the rate of 7 feet a second.

The Hackensack meadows of New Jersey are mentioned as being suitable for the huge storage basin necessary to maintain the reserve supply, and an auxiliary system of pipes, under the Hudson river, will carry the coal to smaller supply stations in the boroughs of New York City.

As to economy, it is calculated that the pipe can move coal at the rate of 75 cents, possibly 50 cents a ton, while rail transportation costs $2.28. The costliness of carriage by train is due partly to a 12 to 16 per cent coal consumption by the locomotive hauling the cars to and from the mining district and partly to reloading and transportation expenses, averaging 25 cents a ton.

No construction difficulties face the engineers who are working out the details. Already the principle has proved sound in its application to similar material, such as earth and stone, in hydraulic dredging and removal of ashes, not to mention oil. Fuel in a dry and powdered state has been sent thru pipes by means of an air blast, the diameter of the tubes being in some cases as small as 3 inch, a small installation of the kind having been in operation in London, Eng., for some years.

The application of the method on a larger scale is only a logical step in meeting the exigencies of fuel cost and fuel shortage in New York. The means of obtaining this result are simple enough, and within reach.

Horseshoe Fabric and Cord Tires

Re-Cord Tubes

In addition to the two well known brands of tires we have carried, the Ajax and Silvertown Cord, we received two options to add another line.

One was "an off brand, to sell at a price."

One was "a super tire, at a fair price."

We selected the super tire because our policy is that the best is none too good.

"It Pays" to "Pay Promptly"

The person who pays obligations promptly, establishes a reputation for integrity that commands the confidence of friends and business people. Time was, when it was a common practice with certain people to let bills drag for months and months. Today, the situation is different. Worth while people are paying their bills promptly. Putting them off from month to month is no longer customary—the Merchants do not permit, or sanction it.

No man today will boast of the account he pays "Whenever he feels like it." No group of men will smile with the one who speaks proudly of the money he owes, and which is overdue. This healthier public sentiment is largely the result of the united and intelligent action of the Retail Merchants, not only of Jacksonville but of every other progressive city in the country.

Your Credit Is Never Standing Still

Practically every business place in Jacksonville has your credit standing at its finger tips. You are rated after the plan on which businesses are rated. Your rating is either good, medium or bad. The more promptly you pay your bills, the better your credit grows; the less promptly you pay your bills, the worse your credit grows. This rating follows you to Jacksonville, and follows you when you leave Jacksonville.

What Is Credit

How Can I Establish Credit?

CREDIT is the faith man has in the integrity of his fellowman. It buys more on the open market in the World today than all the gold in existence. CREDIT is more valuable than gold.

To Establish Credit

Pay your bills promptly.
Spend wisely, less than you earn.
Invest in reliable securities and reliable merchandise.
Carry Life Insurance and a Bank Account.
Save some money each week, or month.

Today Is "Pay Your Bills Promptly" Day of "Pay Up" Week

Every Merchant of Jacksonville urges you to pay your bills promptly, so that you may "Hold Up Your Head, and Look Every Man in the Eye." Think it over; ACT AT ONCE.

ADVOCATES FINANCING OF RAILWAYS LOCALLY

Milwaukee Man Sees In Local Financing of Electric Railways
Solution of Industry's Present Day Problem—Addresses Chicago Conference.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Local financing of electric railways was advocated by S. B. Way, of Milwaukee, as one of the best solutions of the industry's present day problems. Mr. Way was speaking before the mid-year conference of the American Electric Railway Association.

"Such a happy means of financing is, of course, ideal, Mr. Way said, 'if each community were financially self-sustaining and if each street railway were owned by its patrons, being in fact a mutually co-operative enterprise, there would be universal satisfaction in rates of fare that approach the actual cost of service.'

Local financing, however, has of the large amount of money that it requires to build an electric railway line, and also because growing communities always are in debt, Mr. Way pointed out.

"Better local understanding of the economics of the business, which may be promoted by self interest in its success," he said, "carries with it better public relations and has, in cases, made unscrupulous attacks by the issue seeking politician actually unpopular. The advantage of supporting general financing plans through local financing, thus increasing the amount of money raised, must not be lost sight of and mention may be made of the desirability from the traction company's standpoint of any issue of securities which does not carry restrictions which may be burdensome when the company is again required to resort to its credit."

"The disadvantages, if there are any, arise from efforts necessary to the maintenance of good reputation, adequate publicity of the company's business and the restricted ability of local investors to absorb securities."

Mr. Way strongly recommended newspaper advertising as one channel through which sales can be developed.

MICHIGAN WILL MEET CALIFORNIA

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan's acceptance of the university of California's invitation to engage in a dual track meet at Berkeley, Cal., April 9, will necessitate a number of changes in the Michigan track schedule for the 1921 season.

Because of a university ruling that prohibits absence of a team in any one sport from school for a period longer than a total of one week in a season, it will be necessary to refrain from competition in certain western and eastern intercollegiate. The Drake relays at Des Moines, April 23, the Penn relays at Philadelphia, April 30, and the eastern intercollegiate at Cambridge, Mass., May 27 and 28, are the events to be stricken from the Michigan schedule.

The Michigan team will leave for California about April 1. As the spring vacation does not begin until April 8 the week away from school permitted the team during the season will be entirely used. An effort is being made to obtain permission for the team to engage in other contests one or two days at a time later in the season. This would necessitate a change on the university rule. Athletic officials are hopeful that a four-man team may be sent to the Penn relay, but it is said to be certain that Michigan will not be represented in the Drake relay.

If Michigan withdraws from the Cambridge event it will be necessary to apply for readmittance, as the Ann Arbor team was not entered last year. A college is automatically dropped from membership in the intercollegiate after two years' absence.

To date there is nothing to indicate that Michigan will not engage in the following track events:

Feb. 25—Chicago meet at Chicago.
March 5—Illinois relays at Champaign.
March 19—Intercollegiate at Evanston.
March 26—Cornell at Ann Arbor.
May 7—O. S. U. meet at Columbus.
May 14—Illinois meet at Champaign.
May 21—Chicago meet at Ann Arbor.
June 4 and 5—Conference meet at Chicago.
Michigan will send a team of 15 men to the dual meet at Berkeley.

ANCESTRY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN IS REVIEWED

Facts About Martyred President's Ancestors Told Chicago Historical Society By Dr. M. M. Quaife of Wisconsin.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—The world to-day knows far more about Abraham Lincoln's ancestry than Lincoln did himself and in its distinguished line may find an entirely reasonable explanation of his genius, Dr. Milo M. Quaife, of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin, told the Chicago Historical Society.

"Lincoln himself knew little about his ancestry and was always averse to discussing the subject," Dr. Quaife said. "But the patient research of zealous genealogists since the Great Emancipator's death, has yielded rich results by way of adding to our understanding of his career."

Briefly summarizing these results, we know that Samuel Lincoln, a weaver's apprentice, came from Old to New England as a part of the great Puritan migration of the early seventeenth century. He shortly achieved prosperity in the New World and became the founder of a line which had become notable long before Abraham Lincoln of Illinois shed added luster upon it.

"His son was the founder of the smelting industry in New England about the year 1704."

Family Migratory One.
"The family was characteristically American in that for two hundred years it was a migratory one, setting its face ever to the west following the line of the frontier. From Massachusetts the first removal was to New Jersey; then to Pennsylvania; to Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana and finally to Illinois."

"During all these generations, until we came to Thomas Lincoln, father of the President, the family was one of influence and character counting leading men in the several communities wherein it resided."

"With the father of the President, however, the family fortune underwent a sharp decline."

"At an early age Thomas Lincoln was left a penniless orphan on the raw Kentucky frontier. Penniless and uneducated he grew up, and whether by reason of hard environment or inherent lack of capacity, he went thru life a poverty-stricken ne'er-do-well."

Never Knew Ancestry.
"Because of this, Abraham Lincoln grew up in ignorance of the splendid ancestry that lay behind him, and to the day of his death never knew that his mother was not of illegitimate birth, or that he himself was born in lawful wedlock."

Calling the role of only a few of the descendants of Samuel Lincoln, the immigrant weaver's apprentice of 1637, Dr. Quaife named: Solomon Lincoln, representative, United States marshal and historian; Dr Isaac Lincoln, for sixty years an overseer of Bowdoin College; Amos Lincoln, member of the Boston Tea Party and captain of artillery in the Revolution; Levi Lincoln, governor of Massachusetts, member of Congress, United States senator, United States attorney-general, and secretary of state under Jefferson; Levi Lincoln, his son, governor of Massachusetts for nine successive terms, member of Congress and of the United States Supreme Court; Levi Lincoln, Jr., governor of Maine, Daniel W. Lincoln, president of the Boston and Albany Railroad; George Lincoln, captain in the United States army, killed while leading a charge at Buna Vista; William Lincoln, colonel and brigadier-general in the Civil War."

ASK LEGISLATION TO AID NURSERYMEN

(By the Associated Press.)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 17.—A state appropriation to establish a course in nursery practice and management at the University of Illinois; a law compelling owners of property to fight plant diseases and pests, and legislation giving nurserymen and planters greater protection against fraudulent tree dealers will be asked of the Fifty-second General Assembly by nurserymen of Illinois.

"Many frauds are committed against planters, farmers and others by irresponsible tree dealers, usually hailing from some point outside the state," said J. A. Young, secretary of the organization. "The association will ask the legislature to put on the statutes of Illinois a law which will protect honest nurserymen and planters. We believe it is our business to clean our own house. Farmers and fruit growers are dependent on the nurseries and it is our purpose to see that the planter is protected."

"There are about 50 nurseries in the state. We have 52 members representing hundreds of thousands of dollars of capital and a good sized army of employees."

IN INCOME TAX REPORTS
All persons desiring assistance in making out their income tax reports for the year 1920 may have an opportunity of visiting the Revenue Office in the Scott block, when Deputy Collector
Tompkins is there for the purpose of giving such help. His next dates for Jacksonville are February 19, 21 and 22.

Those who call during the earlier hours of the day will probably not be delayed very long because of having to wait for their turn. Mr. Tompkins will also be in the office the last four filling days, which are March 11, 12, 14 and 15. Keep these days in mind in order that you may not be disappointed in getting the assistance you need.

Y. M. C. A. Notes

Eight churches in Jacksonville observed the Father and Son program last week. The suggested program was furnished by the local Y. M. C. A. About 800 fathers and sons sat together in our city at the banquets.

Jacksonville Council of Boy Scouts of America is being perfected. There are eight regularly organized troops and four planning to apply soon.

The Hi Y boys contributed $25 to the European Relief and aided in the high school canvas.

St. Louis' large Y building was burned to the ground, but they realizing its value to the city, have started on their rebuilding.

Sioux City, Iowa, has put over a campaign for sixty thousand dollars for Y work.

Danville, Ill., has eight Sunday schools entered in its athletic league for basketball. The high school principal is the leader of the high school chess club.

WHAT THE Y. M. C. A. MEANS
By A. P. Johnson, editor and owner of the Grand Rapids, News.

"In a period when there are so many agencies tempting the youth and even the older person into the byways that lead to sorrow, it is a glorious achievement for any community to set up a real home where everything conduces to right living and right thinking. Without such agencies as the Young Men's Christian Association we should soon find ourselves in a deplorable social condition. The Y is not perfect. It can't be, for it is human. It's an aggregation of men from all walks of life, each with its ideas of exact justice, rights, rules of conduct, standards of morals, ambitions. There always will be friction when so many live and work together. Some who expect more than they are entitled to, will be fretted. Some who expect more than they are entitled to, will be fretted. Some who cannot square their own conduct with that of others better than themselves, will be nettled.

"But over and above all these disgruntled ones is the management, which is clean, disinterested, wholesome, Christian. From the top down there is an influence for good, in fact for the best and the honest. If things do not go exactly right, the leaders here is not to blame. The leaders here to the line, and it's a clean, straight line.

"Such an institution cannot be self-supporting. We expect too many things of it. We expect it to provide so many and such diversified talents, aptitudes, instruments for our use that to make it pay its way it would be compelled to ask many times the price now asked for those things it gives for insignificant sums and often for nothing. As the Y cannot pay as it goes, it must be supported by the public.

"Is it worth what it asks of the public to maintain itself? Yes, that and many times that. We can't get along without the Y. It is cheap at any price, and particularly at the price it asks the public to pay in order that it might live and perform its proper functions.

"The proposal was made today by B. E. Pinkerton of the Monmouth (Ill.) Daily Atlas who said the linotype operators' shortage was becoming serious, 'especially on the smaller newspapers' he said.

"There is a great field for young men in this work," said Mr. Pinkerton. "Unless something is done soon, the publishers will soon face a serious labor problem."

It is proposed that a bureau be opened in Chicago to direct the campaign in the high schools throughout the country.

MOR BURNS NEGRO AT STAKE
Athens, Ga., Feb. 16.—A mob of 5,000 persons tonight stormed the Clarke county jail and after forcibly taking John L. Eberhardt, a negro charged with the murder of Mrs. Walter Lee, of Oconee county, from the jail, burned him to the stake.

CUT THUMB BADLY.
While in a barber's chair yesterday George W. Hamilton was severely cut. He raised his right hand in such a way that by chance it struck the razor's edge and the thumb was cut to the bone. He was given immediate attention at Our Saviour's hospital.

S. T. Burnett of Springfield was a city guest yesterday.

BUSIEST FARMER IS RESIDENT OF NEBRASKA

Besides Farming Interests He Is Identified With Many Organizations.

Lincoln, Nebr.—(By the Associated Press.)—Nebraska perhaps can boast of the busiest farmer in America. He is C. H. Gustafson, of Mead, Nebr., or where ever else he can be located.

In recent years, the operation of his farm has taken only part of his time, the actual work being left to his son, Ruben. When Mr. Gustafson is not at Mead, he may be found at his Lincoln residence, but he is more apt to be found somewhere else. First he is president of Nebraska Farmers' Union—the second largest business in the state. The Farmers' Union, a cooperative selling agency with headquarters at Omaha, in 1919 did $100,000,000 worth of business.

If Mr. Gustafson is not to be found in Omaha one might try Chicago where he maintains his office as national director of the cooperative marketing division of the American Farm Bureau Federation. If he is not located at any of these places it would be an almost useless search to go farther as he may be attending meetings of any one of a dozen other organizations in any part of the country or speaking before some farm organization.

In addition to being a farmer, president of the Nebraska Farmers' Union, and National Director of the Cooperative marketing division of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Mr. Gustafson is Chairman of the National Farmers' Marketing Committee of Seventeen; Chairman of the National Farmers' Livestock Committee of Fifteen; Chairman of the National Farmers-Labor Cooperative Congress; President of the National Co-operative Company; Vice president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation; Member of the Nebraska State Board of Agriculture; Member of the Board of Directors of the Nebraska Dairymen's Association, and chairman of the Farmers' Union Legislative committee of Nebraska.

When not attending the duties of these offices he has several less important organizations to take his attention.

10,000 RECRUITS NEEDED FOR NURSING

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Nurses of the country with the aid of the American Red Cross have launched a campaign this week to recruit young women for the nursing profession.

Throughout the country the appreciation of nursing in public health, industrial work and other lines is increasing so swiftly that a united effort is needed to fill the demand for nurses. The American Nurses Association, the National League of Nurses Education and the National Organization of Public Health Nursing, together with the American Red Cross will attempt to inform young women and those who influence young women in the choice of a profession, of the unusual opportunities which nursing now offers.

Ten thousand recruits are hoped for as an immediate result of this appeal to service and opportunity. Thousands of recruiting posters and letters have been sent to high school principals, superintendents of training schools for nurses and librarians throughout Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska.

NEW METHOD FOR MEASURING VALUE

Cleveland, O., Feb. 17.—By the A. P.—An entirely new method of measuring the value of an employee's work is receiving its first test in the garment industry here. Scientifically determined standards of work have been installed.

The wage standards, as they are called, were determined after six months of intensive time studies of actual operations. The Cleveland Garment Manufacturers' Association and the six locals of the International Garment Workers' Union joined in paying the expense.

age employee can do in a week is considered 1,000 points for which a stipulated weekly wage is paid. For all that an employee does above the average standard he is paid extra, according to a regulated scale.

In addition to guaranteeing the worker a minimum weekly wage and paying him for all he produces above that the plan provides for paying the worker during whatever idle time there may be in his work day.

Mrs. Guy Moulton and Miss Madge Lombard were among visitors from Waverly yesterday.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—One hundred and sixty men have reported for completion for the east and chorus of the annual university of Chicago play, presented each spring, by the order of Blackfriars. The opera this year is, "The Machinations of Max," written by John Joseph, a former university student.

All music for the songs has been composed and arranged by university men. Presentation will take place in May.

Mrs. Ellis Tucker of Chapin, was shopping in town yesterday.
